

K. P. ASSORTED CLERGYMEN.

CLERICAL AGENCY COMES UNDER THE LICENSE DEPARTMENT

And Must Reduce Some of Its Fees According to the Statute Which Prescribes the Amount That's Collectible for Both Skilled Labor and Unskilled Labor.

The latest business concern to come under the scope of Commissioner Keating's License Department is the Clerical Agency and Church, conducted by the John E. Webster Company at 5 East Fourteenth street. The company has applied for a license and will soon be doing business under the same regulations as the dramatic agencies of Broadway and the intelligence offices of Sixth avenue.

The clerical agency was established several months ago to secure places for ministers out of a job or new field for those who wished to be transferred. The business manager is John E. Webster, but the real work of keeping in touch with Bishops and pulpits supply committees who are looking for promising ministerial timber is done by the Rev. Dr. Charles Pickells.

The agency is in the field to help its clients to secure locum tenencies, occasional supplies, summons work, assistantships, pastorates and rectories. According to the circular it issues, the fee of $1.50 will entitle a client to a chance at engagements for Sunday duty and summons duty from May 1 to Oct. 1 and a fee of $3 will entitle him to engagements for Sunday duty, summons duty and locum tenencies for one year. For an engagement of that kind a fee of 5 per cent. is charged.

But in order to get the full benefit of the agency's powerful assistance in securing a settled position must be transferred. The registration book. For this fee is charged. If the applicant secures a job he must pay an additional sum. Here is the tariff schedule prepared by the agency for registration for one year:

For salary not exceeding	Book-keeping	Balance due when appointed	Total registration fee
$500	$2.00	$4.00	$6.00
1,000	2.50	5.00	7.50
1,500	3.00	6.00	9.00
2,000	3.50	7.00	10.50
2,500	4.00	8.00	12.00
3,000	4.50	9.00	13.50
Unlimited	5.00	10.00	15.00

For places secured through information given by the agency the following is the scale of fees: Up to $1,000 salary, 10 per cent.; from $1,000 to $1,400, 6 per cent.; from $1,400 to $1,800, 7 per cent.; from $1,800 upward, 7 1/2 per cent.

Under the Employment Agency law, however, the clerical bureau will have to come down in its scale of prices. The act says that the fee charged to unskilled workers shall not exceed 10 per cent. of the first month's wages. For all other applicants the amount charged shall not exceed the first week's wages or salary or 5 per cent. of the first year's salary. In case the applicant does not accept or obtain employment the fee must be returned, the agency being allowed to retain a sum not exceeding 50 cents. When a clergyman out of a job applies for a place at the agency he first pays the booking fee. Then he has to fill out Form C, which runs like this:

State age and nationality.
Married or single?
To what denomination do you belong?
Where educated?
Where obtained (degree and priest, if Episcopalian)?
What date?
By whom?

The agency announces that it has been endorsed by Bishop Seymour of Springfield, Bishop Davies of Michigan, Bishop Scarborough of New Jersey, Bishop Johnson of Western Texas, Bishop Doane of Albany and several other dignitaries of the Episcopal Church. The church exchange which is run in conjunction with the agency furnishes church appointments for organists, choirmasters and singers.

PROMISED TO WED NIECE, SUE.

Girl Who Denies the Relationship Has the Offender Jailed.

Charles Schultz or Jachiel Zernich, a Russian Jew, is shut up in the Ludlow Street Jail on an order of arrest in suit for breach of promise of marriage preferred by Ida Zernich. He says that his name is Zernich. She says that it's Schultz. He says that he's her uncle and ought not to marry her. She says that besides being a deceiver he's a liar. Justice Leventritt tried to straighten it out yesterday and adjourned it until Monday in order to rest his aching head.

Schultz, who doesn't talk English, over-worked an interpreter yesterday while he told his troubles.

"I'm only a month from the old country," he said. "That girl Ida—she's my brother's daughter—she wants to get married. Married to whom? Oh, anybody. She ain't particular, but I guess she liked me pretty well. I borrowed $30 from her. That was to get good clothes and razors. I'm a barber, and I have to wear good clothes."

"So they said, 'Suppose you marry Ida,' and I said, 'No, I need my money.' They signed the papers. I asked to see the papers. It was Charles Schultz. I signed it that way, I guess, because I was drunk, but that ain't my name. Then they arrested me."

Schultz lay in jail for several days. Then he told his troubles to Sheriff Erlanger, who became interested and got Henry J. Goldman to take him out on Tuesday morning. Ida, the prisoner and forty relatives were in court to fight out habeas corpus proceedings. Goldman contended that the alleged agreement was to perform an illegal act and was therefore void. The case went over.

FOUGHT A WILDCAT.

Hubert Saves His Dog's Life After Being Lacerated Severely.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Jesse Hubert of Lovelock saved the life of his dog in a fight with a wildcat yesterday, but he and the dog were each badly scratched. He heard the dog yelling in the woods and found it had been attacked by a wildcat. The cat sprang boldly upon him, tearing his shoulder and left arm. He shook it off and kicked it away from him.

The wounded dog bravely tried to divert the cat's attention, and Hubert found a club. He beat down the cat as it sprang at him again, and although scratched at out the hands and legs managed finally to drive it up a tree, and his father, attracted by the cries, ran with a gun to aid him and shot it.
